Dear Brother

I wrote you last by Mr. Woods, who was taken sick at Leicester, & could not carry the things, which I sent by him, to your house. He says he sent them ~~to your house~~ by somebody, who left them at your house, before he returned, back here. The things that I sent by him, were 3 gowns, & a muffle <sup>& trunks</sup> for Sister Pers. I wish you would write, by the <sup>next</sup> opportunity, whether you have received them or not, & send the money which I wrote in the letter, I sent by him, the sum was 5 dollars which I want very much, & should feel very happy, if you could send it next week, by the stage. I have had no letters from our brothers as yet, but I expect one this week, by the packet. I have no news to write; except that there are a great many sick, here at present. but they are getting better. I remain your loving brother Wm. Green

As I wrote in the last that I sent a book for Knight but I could not get it in to the stage. Though you may tell him to find the shoes for I shall send the book the first opportunity

Dear Brother

I wrote you last by Mr. Woods, who was taken sick at Leicester, & could not carry the things, which I sent by him, to your house. He says he sent them ~~he says~~ by somebody who left them at your house, before he returned, back here[.] The things that I sent by him, were 8 gowns, & a muff & tights for Sister & Timo. I wish you would write, by the next opportunity, whether you have received them or not, & send the money which I write for in the letter, I sent by him, the sum was 5 dollars which I want verry [sic] much, & should feel verry [sic] happy, if you could send it next week, by the stage. I have had no letters from our brothers, as yet, but I expect one this week, by the packet. I have no news to write; except that there are a great many sick, here at present, but they are getting better. I remain your loving brother Wm. Green[.]

To Doc[tor] John Green
Worcester

[P.S.] ~~AB~~I wrote in the last that I sent a book for [MS. illegible] but I could not get it in to the baags [sic] Though you may tell him to send the shoes for I shall send the book the first opportunity [.]
